How do I avoid the Internet Explorer Mixed Content popup warning message?

The warning will look something like this:

"This page contains both secure and non-secure items. Do you want to display the non-secure items?"

Open Internet Explorer. Navigate to Tools > Internet Options > Security tab. Select the Internet zone, and click Custom Level. Scroll down just over half way down to the Miscellaneous section and make sure that the selection for Display Mixed Content is set to Enabled as below.

Best practice is to enter the site, www.heritageeis.com into your trusted site list and set the allow mixed content for the trusted sites only.
